

CONGRESSIONAL

The Day in the Senate Devoted to Memorial Addresses on the Late Vice-President Hendricks.

An Effort to Repeal the Dead Statesman by Senator Voorhees—In the House.

WASHINGTON, January 2.—House.—Pursuant to the order of the House made yesterday, the Speaker proceeded to call the Senate, under which call a large number of bills and resolutions were introduced and referred.

In the morning hour Mr. Thomas, [11] on behalf of the Committee on Naval Affairs, called up the bill authorizing the voluntary retirement of certain officers of the navy, who have rendered conspicuous service in battle, or served thirty years in the navy.

Mr. Thomas explained that the bill would benefit those men who were known as "deadwood," but were not, as boatswains, gunners, sailmakers, etc., who though having performed meritorious service, have never received any advancement. It would also benefit the navy, because it would result in removing from the way of promotion officers who were known as "deadwood," who held high rank, but were incapable of performing their duties.

Mr. Reagan (Tex.) opposed the bill as adding another batch to the American aristocracy, to be fed and clothed by the labor of men. The country had gone far enough on the road toward establishing an American aristocracy. The country should get back to where all men were equal, and where exclusive privileges were granted to none.

Mr. Thomas inquired what the gentleman would do with the present retired list of the army and navy.

Mr. Reagan replied that he would repeal these un-American aristocratic laws, and leave the officers to work for their living like other men. He would have no man to live on the work of other men in a country claiming to be a free, constitutional republic. If he could succeed in preventing the spread of this evil he would congratulate himself, even though he would not secure the repeal of the retirement laws.

"That's one vote against Fitz John Porter," remarked Mr. Steele (Ind.). [Laughter.]

Mr. McMillan (Tenn.) took the same view of the question as Mr. Reagan, and announced his resistance to any extension of the retired list. He proposed in this bill to get rid of the "deadwood" by promotion or the retired list, instead of burning it up in a court-martial.

Mr. McAdoo (N. J.) supported the bill as being in the line of reform in the navy.

Pending action the morning hour expired and the House adjourned.

and with such signal ability. In the busy harvest of death of the year 1853, there was gathered into eternity no nobler spirit, no higher intelligence, no fairer soul."

After hearing the speeches of Senators Voorhees, Sherman, Sherman, Sanbury, Evans, Hammon, Spooner, Vest and Harrison in memory of the late Vice-President Hendricks, the Senate adopted the commemorative resolution heretofore submitted by Senator Voorhees, and then, at 3:10 o'clock p.m., adjourned.

In the Committee-Rooms.

The Committee on Foreign Affairs to-day heard arguments at length by Messrs. W. H. Trevelock and Charles Woodbury of Massachusetts in opposition to the appointment of a fisheries commissioner. The hearing will be continued.

Mr. Morrison has been instructed by the Ways and Means Committee to report favorably to the House an original bill taxing fractional parts of a gallon of spirits. The bill is intended to carry out a suggestion made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in his last report. He pointed out that it was entirely practical for a distiller to fill his packages so as to leave over a fraction less than one-half gallon, and thus escape tax upon the amount above the even number of gallons contained in the package.

Chairman Reagan of the House Committee on Commerce has received requests from the Erie Railway Company and the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company that representative be granted a hearing upon the subject of interstate commerce. The committee authorized Mr. Reagan to notify the companies that they would be granted a hearing on Friday or Saturday, the 29th or 30th of January, and on Monday, February 1st. The reason that but three days are assigned is that the committee is in possession of printed copies of arguments presented before the committee at previous hearings, which, it is believed, cover all points in the subject matter. The committee will report favorably the bill amending the act authorizing the employment of certain aliens as engineers and pilots.

Senators Hale and Frye were before the Senate Finance Committee to-day to oppose the confirmation of Collector Pillsbury of Boston and Collector Chase of Portland. They laid before the committee the report of the committee of the Maine Legislature, which investigated the "condition of the election returns of September 8, 1876, and the expenditures of public money under the direction of Gov. Garland," together with the testimony taken during that investigation. The nominations were not acted upon by the Finance Committee. The Senate resolutions declaring it to be the opinion of Congress that the bonds payable on the 1st of February should be paid in silver, was taken up by the committee to-day. The next regular committee meeting does not take place until next Tuesday. There is, therefore, no prospect of action by the committee before the payment of the bonds in question.

The Tammany Chiefs.

New York, January 2.—The Tammany Hall Committee on Organization met last evening and, as anticipated, re-elected John Kelly chairman, Sheriff Hugh J. Grant vice-chairman and John McQuade second vice-chairman. With the exception of the debate on Mr. Bourke Cochran's civil service resolution the meeting was very quiet and uneventful. The discussion gave several gentlemen a chance to air their views on the subject of civil service reform. It ended in the adoption of the resolutions by a large majority.

Passenger Train Wrecked on the Illinois Central.

St. Louis, Mo., January 2.—A special train from Cairo, Ill., to the Post Dispatch states that at 7:30 o'clock last evening the south-bound passenger train on the southern division of the Illinois Central was wrecked thirty miles below that place. The locomotive and all the cars, except the two sleepers, were derailed, and Engineer William Ruffin of Water Valley, Miss., was instantly killed. The accident was caused by the removal of a rail by some unknown cause.

Gen. Low Wallace Weakened.

CINCINNATI, O., January 2.—Gen. Low Wallace publishes a card to-day, saying that many of the telegrams published in the commercial Gazette Washington correspondence are new to him, and they tend to relieve Gen. Halleck from that part of his opinion which makes him guilty of treasonable suppression of information in his dealings with President Lincoln and Gen. Grant. He announces that he has been visiting Washington for a personal inspection of all the documents, and in the mean time requests a suspension of judgment in the matter.

Dry Goods House Burned Out.

WACHTA, Kas., January 2.—At 2 o'clock this morning a fire occurred in Robinson Brothers' dry goods house. It was one of the largest establishments in the city. The stock, valued at $47,000, was completely ruined. The insurance being burned, the names of the companies are not known. At 3 o'clock another fire occurred on the other side of the same street, destroying three frame buildings, the stock in which was largely saved.

Disastrous Fire at Opelika, Ala.

COLUMBIA, Ga., January 2.—Information has just reached here of a disastrous fire at Opelika, Ala. It broke out about 2 o'clock this morning, and five or six stores were burned. The loss is thought to be about $50,000.

Richmond, Va., January 2.—A local physician has authority for the statement that there are fifteen cases of sickness from eating diseased pork at Richmond, Va. The cases are severe.

A GREAT FIRE.

A Number of Business Firms and a Hotel Burned Out at Philadelphia.

Total Loss About Half a Million Dollars—Exciting Scenes and Incidents.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., January 2.—The five-story brick building Nos. 715, 717 and 719, Arch street, was discovered to be on fire at 12:35 o'clock this morning. The flames quickly communicated to No. 721 Arch street. The building in which the fire originated is one of the handomest on Arch street, and was erected three years and a half ago by Elliston P. Morris. The upper floors were occupied by the firms of Lehman & Blythe and Packard, Butler & Partridge, lithographers, and Oracamp & West, photo-engravers. Each of these firms will suffer a total loss. The first floor was occupied by Monroe Bros. & Co., wholesale shoe dealers. The building No. 721 Arch street was occupied by J. May & Bros., dealers in straw and millinery goods. The firemen, finding their efforts to save Mr. Morris' building unavailing, directed their streams to the St. Cloud Hotel, which adjoins immediately on the east. The guests in the St. Cloud Hotel, who had all retired for the night, were startled by the frantic shouts of "fire!" which came from the fourth floor. A boarder occupying a room on the western end was one of the first to discover the flames and his cry of warning created a panic in the hotel. The guests rushed from their rooms partially dressed into the corridors and down-stairs to the office. The female guests were escorted safely to quarters in the neighborhood, while the gentlemen, with gripsacks and others juggling their trunks, looked after their own interests. There were dozens of

EXCITING INCIDENTS AND SCENES attendant upon the retreat from the hotel, but no accidents were reported. At 1:15 o'clock the front wall of the Morris building fell with a loud crash into the street. This was soon followed by the fall of the rear wall upon the warehouse at Nos. 721 and 723, occupied by J. May & Bros. The roof was crushed and the building shattered by the burning debris. A number of buildings on the south side of Arch street were damaged by fire, and the contents suffered from water. These were occupied by M. Fahy & Co., dealers in fur; P. C. Fallwell, importer and manufacturer of cigars; Semmings & Sons' Silk Company; the photographic establishment of T. Gutekunst, and S. K. Womath, dealer in furs. The Harris building, just opposite the Morris building, was badly burned about the front and upper stories, but the fire was prevented from spreading further by the firemen who at once directed several streams on the building. This structure is a large iron building, five stories high, and extends from Nos. 720 to 724. It is occupied by the following firms, all of whom are losers to some extent by fire or water: Gilliam & Sons, glass manufacturers; Harris Bros., printers; L. S. Custer, millinery goods; and D. A. Hunter. There are also several other firms which have office room in the place, but their losses will be slight. The double building Nos. 723 and 725 Arch street, just west of the Morris building, is entirely burned out. It was occupied jointly by May & Bros.; Schoeder & Hillary, manufacturers and importers of kid gloves; the Metropolitan Straw Works; and A. Rice, millinery goods. Shortly after 2 o'clock it was evident that the ST. CLOUD HOTEL WAS DOOMED, as great volumes of heavy, dark smoke came pouring through the fifth floor front windows. During the early stages of the fire, and before it had reached the hotel, the police ran through the latter buildings to awaken the guests who had not previously been alarmed. Some of them were too sleepy to be aroused, and the officers were obliged to break in a few of the doors to get the people out. By 3 o'clock the cornice and a portion of the top story of the hotel fell into Arch street, sending up myriads of cinders. At 3:45 o'clock a.m. the fire was under control. The St. Cloud Hotel lessees are Messrs. J. & N. Mullin. The hotel was a five-story structure with a fronting of some eighty feet. It had accommodations for 350 guests, and last night was filled to capacity. The guests were awakened by the fire. The property owners and effects at $50,000, which is fully covered by insurance. The owner of the property is W. Price, the well-known paper dealer. The London Temperance Hotel adjoins the St. Cloud on the east side, and also caught fire. The guests, who were mainly permanent boarders, were directed to leave it, and all of them succeeded in saving their personal property. The loss is now estimated to be between $500,000 and $750,000.

THE INDIVIDUAL LOSSES are as follows: Monroe Bros. & Co., shoes, $50,000; Lehman & Blythe, lithographs, $100,000; St. Cloud Hotel and furniture, $100,000; W. H. Butler, lithographs, $50,000; F. Gutekunst, photographer, $15,000; May & Bros., millinery, $40,000; Schroeder & Hillary, gloves, $15,000; George Harris & Sons, printers, $10,000; London House, $15,000; A. Rice, millinery, $7,000; Gallagher & Casey, leather goods, $10,000; five small dwellings on Winifred street, $5,000.

Destroyed by the Carelessness of a Lad.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., January 2.—This morning at about 6:30 o'clock the Grashopper Mill, situated in Smoky Hollow, and valued at $50,000, was burned to the ground, through the carelessness of a lad named James Birket, who dropped a lamp into an oil can while at work. The total loss of building, machinery, stock, etc., is $75,000. The total amount of insurance is $42,000, in good companies. A large amount of insurance had been dropped but a short time ago. The mill just started yesterday, and had enough orders ahead to last them through the summer. It is not yet known whether it will be rebuilt.

Fifty Thousand Dollar Fire at Burlington, Vt.

BURLINGTON, Vt., January 2.—Fire in Wheeler's block, one of the largest business structures in this city, this morning completely gutted the building. The Great Street, just south, and the business block north, and several buildings in the rear, were also damaged. Loss about $50,000; insurance, $30,000.

A Queer Suit.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., January 2.—Peter G. Graham, colored, sued David Fennessy, president of St. Mary's College, a Catholic institution in Marion county, Ky., for $50,000 in the United States Court here to-day. Graham alleges that he spent nearly $50,000 educating himself for the priesthood at St. Mary's, and that he started for Denver with a letter from the Rev. Fennessy saying, "Graham is qualified to be ordained as a priest." Graham says that later Fennessy sent a letter to the colored bishop saying he was bad tempered and otherwise unfitted for the priesthood, thus preventing his ordination.

HIGH LICENSE IN NEBRASKA.

The Liquor Law to Be Further Tested in the Courts.

OMAHA, Neb., January 2.—The high license liquor law of Nebraska, which has been declared constitutional in the State Supreme Court, is to be tested further as to its constitutionality in the United States Supreme Court by a St. Louis liquor firm, who two years ago sold a large bill of goods to D. L. McGucken of this city. McGucken refused to pay the bill, and the St. Louis firm in defense of the law, the St. Louis firm had no license to sell goods in Nebraska, and hence, could not legally do business in Nebraska. The high license law provides that an applicant for license must swear that he is of good moral character and not a convict. The St. Louis firm could not comply with the requirements, and their attorneys maintained that the law was unconstitutional, as it disregarded the clause regarding interstate commerce. The case was decided in the District Court in favor of the defendant, McGucken, and the Supreme Court affirmed the decision last summer. The St. Louis firm has now ordered their attorney to appeal the case to the United States Supreme Court, the instructions being based on a recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in a somewhat similar case in Michigan—Samuel W. Young v. the State of Michigan—in which local taxation of transient salesmen was declared unconstitutional.

THE WOOL TRADE.

Increase in Imports from Foreign Ports—The Home Supply.

NEW YORK, January 2.—Immigration commissioner Lynch, a leading wool dealer, has compiled the statistics of the wool trade for 1917. The total amount of wool received at this port last year was 104,068,483 pounds of which 62,899,740 were of foreign production. The arrivals in 1914 amounted to 81,577,935 pounds; in 1915, 95,081,050, and in 1916, 74,845,433. The increase in the wool trade, the report states, the growers have been discouraged by the low prices for fine wools. In the past years sheep have been slaughtered in great numbers, and the production of the best qualities is considerably reduced. The severity of the winter of 1916-17 caused the death of nearly 1,000,000 sheep. The clip of 1917 was 1,000,000 pounds above that of 1916. The outlook for a material increase the present year does not appear encouraging.

WHAT BEANS REALLY ARE.

Boston's Favorite Fruit Again Before the Courts.

NEW YORK, January 2.—The question as to what beans really are, which has been the subject of much argument and several decisions in the United States Court, was again before that tribunal yesterday. In 1881 beans were placed, by a decision in court, in the category of garden seeds, on which 20 per cent. is payable. Subsequently they took position as vegetables, but at 10 per cent. duty, and yesterday Gen. Henry E. Treman successfully argued against Assistant District Attorney Platt that beans should be admitted free of duty under the classification of beans, dried, not edible in a crude state. The plaintiff was Louis A. Solomon. The verdict, if upheld, will probably have an important effect on agricultural affairs.

Milton Weston to Be Taken to the Penitentiary.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., January 2.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon, Milton Weston, convicted of being an accessory to the murder of Obadiah Haymaker, who was killed during the Murdersville riots, appeared at the sheriff's office and gave himself up. He was placed in the custody of the sheriff by order of Judge Bailey, and will be taken to the penitentiary at once to undergo his sentence of five years imprisonment. It is understood that petitions for his pardon are already in circulation.
